MEN WHO HELPED MAKE PORTSMOUTH

Brief Sketches of Their Lives, Which Should Be An Inspiration to All; Opportunities In Portsmouth for the Hard-working, Conscientious Young Man Just As Good As Anywhere Else In The World

Not only to build, but to build for beauty and for permanence; this is to be a builder of ideals as well as edifices. When C. C. Taylor came to Portsmouth from Cincinnati five years ago, he saw here a fertile field for his work as an architect. Already some of his ideals have been materialized in brick and mortar, as for instance, the Portsmouth County Club, the Marting Bros. Co.'s store building, Columbia Theatre, Eastland Theatre, Kline and Wurster buildings, F. & M. and Watkins garages, and others as the Citizens' Savings and Loan Co. bank and several residences are in the process of development; and others, to be exemplified in the North Hotel, the construction of which has already been started.

Charles Calvin Taylor was born in Cincinnati, in 1870. He studied at the Ohio Mechanics' Institute and was the honor student of the class of 1887, and later with James W. McLaughlin, private architectural tutor and one of the group of famous architects who practically built Cincinnati. Mr. Taylor has also worked with William Martin Aiken, supervising architect for the United States government, studied with A. O. Elzner, architect, under H. H. Richardson of Boston, an internationally recognized architect. Before coming to Portsmouth Mr. Taylor was a member of the architectural firm of Bell and Taylor of Cincinnati, established in 1890. When located in Cincinnati, Mr. Taylor designed and supervised the construction of edifices that embraced every department of the architectural field, such as public, municipal, educational, business, manufacturing, domestic and amusement buildings. Some of the edifices such as the Acolian Co. building, Commercial Trust and Power building, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. building, Olympic theatre, Cincinnati, Ohio, Murray at Richmond, Ind., Columbia at Muncie, Ind., Ludlow Lagoon Amusement Park, buildings at Coney Island, The Luncheonette Plant, Wiedeman's brewery, Newport, Cincinnati abattoir, Lexington Public Library, police stations and other municipal buildings, the plants of the American Laundry Machine Co., Newwood, Ohio, the American Oak Leather Co.'s, Dism and Wing Paper Co., St. Boniface church, Ludlow, Ky., Fourth Presbyterian Church, Odd Fellows Temple, Ludlow, Ky., as well as St. Francis hospital and the St. Bernard grade and high school.

C. C. TAYLOR

Mr. Taylor was at one time depot architect for the C. N. O. and T. R. R. His extensive operations have not been confined to the limits of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, but have reached as far as Mexico City, Mexico. While still maintaining his office in Cincinnati, Mr. Taylor built the Columbia theatre here in 1910 and more recently built the enlarged addition and it was partly due to associations formed at that time that he chose Portsmouth as the place in which to locate.

Mr. Taylor is a member of the American Institute of Architects, class of 1896; the Chamber of Commerce, Country Club, Elks, Blaine Club, Rotary and Business Men's Clubs. Mr. Taylor was married to Blanch Carroll, daughter of Richard Carroll, vice president of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railroad. His son

Richard is associated with him in his office in the First National Bank Building. Most architects have a hobby in their line of work, and Mr. Taylor admits that his is period architecture. "There are too many exclamation points and question marks in the style of our buildings," he says, "and not enough periods." Mr. Taylor selected Portsmouth as his coming city in which he saw great possibilities for his profession. "As to buildings of the better class, the surface of the field for architectural advancement in Portsmouth has not been scratched," he says. Mr. Taylor sees Portsmouth developing until the hills surrounding the city are crowned with beautiful homes and the business streets lined with stores and office buildings of a dignity consistent with the size of the city.

MYSTERIOUS "PRINCIPAL" WAS "CURTIS OF KANSAS"

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the assistant Republican leader of the senate, denied today the testimony of Ira E. Bennett, editorial writer of the Washington Post, that he was the "principal" in the telegram sent by Bennett to Edward H. McLean on January 29.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty and Senator Curtis, of Kansas, assistant Republican leader of the senate, were quoted in testimony before the oil committee today as having sent reassuring messages to Edward H. McLean in Florida after the publisher became one of the central figures in the oil disclosures.

The testimony was given by Ira E. Bennett, an editorial writer for McLean's Washington Post.

Daugherty Sent Reassurance.—The oil committee was told today that Attorney General Daugherty sent a reassuring message to Edward H. McLean in Florida on the day the publisher was summoned here to testify in the oil inquiry.

Ira Bennett, an editorial writer on McLean's Washington Post, testified that such a message was conveyed in a telegram he sent to McLean after a conference with the attorney general.

The message as placed before the committee included such phrases as "all that is possible to be done will be done by us," and "you know what to depend on."

Bennett then declared that a similar assurance had been conveyed through him to McLean on January 29, in the famous "principal" message.

"Principal" Identified As Senator Curtis, of Kansas.—The "principal" referred to in that message, the witness said, was not President Coolidge, as some Democratic senators have guessed, but Senator Curtis, he testified, and told him that the publisher should not be disturbed, that it would be "all right."

As partially detailed and placed in the committee record the message said that Bennett said Attorney General Daugherty had sent through to McLean as follows:

"I am at Y's elbow and standing at the guns. All that is possible to be done will be done by us, so you should worry delay selection of prosecutor."

"Give Evelyn (Mrs. McLean) my love. I don't want Evelyn to be disturbed as long as I am on the job. You know what to depend on. The fight is on me and I am ready for them and feeling fine."

The "principal" telegram of January 29, in which Bennett said he meant to convey assurances from Senator Curtis, said:

"Save principal delivered message he says greatly appreciates and sends regards to you and Mrs. McLean. There will be no rocking of the boat and no resignations. He expects reaction from political attacks."

Curtis Said McLean "Need Not Worry"

At a conference that morning, Bennett said Senator Curtis had told him to tell McLean that he need not worry. He had done nothing wrong except to stand by Albert B. Fall. The second sentence of the telegram the witness declared related to impressions he had received from President Coolidge's general conference with the Washington correspondents that day at the White House.

"The February 14 message," he continued, "contains substantially what Mr. Daugherty told me."

"Mr. Daugherty was concerned about Mrs. McLean," Bennett said. "I think the telegram didn't use his words. He said something like 'love to Evelyn.'"

At first, the witness had said he thought the assurance came from William J. Lambert, McLean's attorney, and that he was the man referred to in the message as "X."

"But this message says 'the fight is on me,'" Senator Walsh asked what that meant.

"Hope With Hesitation"—That Is French State of Mind; Years of Disappointment Not Easily Erased

(BY FRANK H. SIMONDS)
(Copyright, 1924, By Times Publishing Company)

PARIS, March 7.—Hope, with hesitation, that is the French state of mind at the moment. There is a frankness of optimism in the French capital than in the British, a large appreciation of the reality of divergences between French and British views upon essentials, less belief that settlement is assured by mere removal of obstacles growing out of mutual distrust incident to past cabinets and still recent foreign office disputes.

France has been too often disappointed in the past five years to believe easily that any miracle, any substitution of one British Prime Minister for another, can remove the real barriers to the final liquidation of war. In England you have sense of hope based upon the arrival of new men, a new spirit; in France you have an enduring consciousness of the presence of old problems, old men.

Paris, official an unofficial, does full justice to the frankness and directness of the new Labor Prime Minister in Britain. There is a disposition here to believe that on the whole MacDonald will prove a more honest, direct negotiator than any of his British predecessors. From the larger outlook this is not only to the good, but it is a great deal to the good.

Differs on Vital Issues.—On the other hand there is here less profound reliance upon the element of atmosphere than in London. There the feeling which I met in that large part of the Anglo-French differences grew out of misunderstandings which could be removed; here the feeling is that, important though misunderstandings may be, useful as the removal of these obstacles would be, in the end one is brought face to face with the essential facts, the complete divergence of national interests and points of view, not upon minor but upon vital issues.

France is waiting upon the report of the commissions which have American members, the more important of which is headed by General Dawes. Much of the general import of the report is being awaited.

Burton Does Not Want Denby's Job

PAT MORAN, MANAGER OF REDS, AT POINT OF DEATH

ORLANDO, Fla., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The death of Patrick J. Moran, Cincinnati hotel proprietor, is expected momentarily, according to an announcement issued at 11 o'clock today by Dr. G. H. Edwards, attending physician, after a consultation with Dr. Carl Johnson, of Pittsburgh, Dr. J. H. McSwain, of Orlando, and Dr. J. W. Draper, noted specialist from New York.

Moran had lapsed into an unconscious state at the time of the consultation, and it is not expected that he will regain consciousness before death. Stimulants are being administered to keep him alive.

"Moran spent a very poor night," Dr. Draper said. "He is being kept alive by the use of stimulants and the administration of water under the skin, in an attempt to rid him of the poison. He has lapsed into an unconscious state and death will likely come at any time."

Physicians issued a statement at noon that Moran would live from two to six hours.

DAUGHERTY IS BACK IN WASHINGTON, MEETS CABINET

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Harry A. Daugherty, returned from his Florida trip today, went from the Union Station direct to a cabinet meeting where he spent forty minutes and emerged without giving any indications whether he had weakened in his determination to resign as attorney general.

Asked the direct question whether the situation here had undergone any change in respect to his position, he said:

"That is a question I hardly can answer. I don't know whether the situation in Washington has undergone any change while I have been away."

Although the attorney general declined to say whether the question of his resignation came up for discussion in the cabinet meeting, others who attended said it had not.

President Ready To Increase Tariff On Wheat Products

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Proclamations increasing the tariff rates on wheat, flour and wheat products, as its first exercise of authority conferred upon him by the flexible provision of the tariff act, were ready for President Coolidge's signature when he reached his desk today.

The war was cleared for ordering of the new rates yesterday but the necessity of referring to the Tariff Commission for a final check some of the cost figures cited delayed issuance of the proclamations.

The new rates, which will become effective thirty days from the date of proclamation, are based on the comparative cost of production in Canada and the United States as determined in the commission's investigation. The president may proclaim increases amounting to fifty per cent of the existing rates and it was generally believed the full increase would be ordered in the existing wheat tariff with proportional increases for flour and wheat products.

Maryland Solon Also Says He Is Not Guilty

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Langley, Republican, Kentucky, denied on the floor of the house and demanded an investigation of public charges that he had received money for exerting official influence.

In a five minute speech, Mr. Langley emphatically denied that he had been guilty of any wrong doing. He was cheered by the house when he concluded his appeal for "a square deal."

Representative Langley, who is chairman of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee, declared he had no information that he was implicated in evidence revealed before the recent Chicago grand jury other than accounts containing his name published in newspapers.

"In the presence of Almighty God and these witnesses," the Kentucky man shouted, "I say I have committed no crime, have done no wrong and confidently rely on speedy vindication at the hands of my colleagues."

For several days he said, he had heard whispered rumors that his name had been brought into the grand jury's investigation. His first inclination, he said, was to rise in his place in the house and demand such because there had been no specific charge preferred.

"I assumed," he continued, "that when the house yesterday adopted a resolution calling on the Department of Justice for names of those involved, that they would be disclosed by this department. That information has not been received."

"When a reputable morning paper, however, contained in substance the statement that I am one of the men accused it is time for me to act. I can't remain silent."

Representative Langley, declaring that he had served the government for more than thirty years, said never before had any suspicion been cast on his personal or official integrity.

"I come from a Kentucky mountain district where people value honor more than human life," he said. "Naturally, I was shocked at the accusation. If the report from the Department of Justice contains my name I ask that a quorum be immediately created where I will have the right to stand face to face with my accusers."

"Without any specific information as to charges I can not enter any specific denial."

Both Deny The Charges.—WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Representatives Langley, of Kentucky, and Zillman, of Maryland, both Republicans, denied today that they ever had improperly exercised their official influence and received money for doing so.

Their denials followed publication of their names in connection with charges by the recent Chicago grand jury that two members of congress had so misused their offices.

Both the representatives said they had heard rumors that they were implicated and had discussed the matter with newspaper men, but declared they had received no official information that they were involved at all in the case. They were emphatic in asserting that they could prove their innocence beyond any doubt if charges were preferred against them.

Representative Langley is chairman of the House Public Lands Committee, and represents the Tenth Kentucky District. His home is in Pikeville. Representative Zillman is chairman of the Labor Committee, represents the Sixth Maryland District and lives at Cumberland.

Washington Has Bad Case of Nerves; Real Political Thunder Will Come Out of Veterans' Probe

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1924.)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—So tense has the atmosphere here become since the Teapot Dome disclosures were made and so sensitive are officials and public men generally about the reckless way in which doubtful imputation is being given to acts which ordinarily would be regarded as routine that Washington is developing a bad case of nerves.

The revelation that President Coolidge had sent a telegram to Palm Beach to Edward H. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, agreement to consult him about the appointment of a commissioner for the District of Columbia was regarded as of such importance as to require an immediate statement of explanation by the president. Mr. McLean's telegram from friends in Washington keeping him posted about the activities of the committee before he was to testify have been made the subject of considerable discussion though when analyzed there isn't a bit of information which Mr. McLean wouldn't have been able to get himself if he had been in Washington from the reports of his own newspaper.

Just at the moment the investigation is drifting along aimlessly, they will stumble on something which will uncover a sensation. The testimony of Mr. McLean is of course, awaited with intense interest as he will be asked no doubt all about his relations with government officials and what he knew about negotiation of the oil leases by the Doherty and Sinclair interests but nobody expects him to reveal that he was a principal in that affair. As an informant, the committee expects much from him for he enjoyed the confidence of the highest officials.

ATTRACTING ROOMERS TO ATTRACTIVE ROOMS

Is done quickest and most easily by giving all the room seekers in Portsmouth a chance to know that you have attractive rooms to rent. In other words, by advertising them in The Times.

Charles E. Ach, 533 Winchester avenue, Scottdale, has just attracted roomers by his attractive rooms by this method.

All he had to do was to step to the phone and tell an advertiser at 2600 that he wanted to rent two attractive rooms.

That's all YOU will have to do! And the sleek results are well worth the slight effort!

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, FLORIDA? I HAVE ALREADY SELECTED CALIFORNIA - I WANT TO SEE ORANGES AND THE SUN-KISSED WATERS OF THE PACIFIC.

SUN-KISSED WATERS OF THE PACIFIC - HUH! I REMEMBER THE TIME YOU LIKED FLORIDA WATER SO MUCH YOU PAID A DOLLAR A BOTTLE FOR IT.

HOW DO YOU KNOW, MIN. RIGHT IS RIGHT- I'LL SHOW YOU WHERE THE BOOKLET SAYS THAT CALIFORNIA IS THE GARDEN-SPOT OF THE WORLD.

AND I'LL SHOW YOU A BOOKLET THAT SAYS THE SAME THING ABOUT FLORIDA.

YOU TOLD ME THIS WAS MY VACATION - THAT YOU WANTED ME TO BE HAPPY - WELL I WON'T BE HAPPY ANY PLACE BUT FLORIDA - WE'LL GO TO FLORIDA OR WE'LL STAY HOME -

WELL, THAT SAVES ME THE TROUBLE OF PACKING MY TRUNK - WE'LL STAY HOME AND READ THE BOOKLETS - I WANTED YOU TO HAVE A GOOD TIME BUT IF YOU'RE GOING TO ACT UNREASONABLE THAT KILLS MY VACATION PLANS AS DEAD AS KING TUT'S GRAND-FATHER.

Vet Bureau Probs To Overshadow
Teapot Quiz

Meanwhile it begins to look as if the Teapot Dome inquiry will be overshadowed by the Veterans' Bureau scandal. The real political dynamite for the coming campaign will come out of the latter. Indeed, the renewal of the drive against Attorney General Daugherty is attributed to the reports that the Veterans' Bureau scandal has already involved some men who were so close to the Attorney General as to excite public curiosity concerning Mr. Daugherty's knowledge or lack of knowledge of their doings. It is a man responsible for what his friends do? Public officials know that on the fringe of the government are many who trade on their friendships.

Discussion of a successor to Attorney General Daugherty has been going on in administration quarters on the assumption that the retirement of Mr. Daugherty before long is inevitable. The mention of the name of Judge William Kenyon who resigned as U. S. Senator from Iowa to accept an appointment from President Harding to the Federal bench has in it interesting possibilities. It is doubtful, however, whether Judge Kenyon would accept. He left the Senate largely because he wanted to escape from the political maelstrom. He was then leader of the Farm Bloc. In fact he was its uninspiring. There was talk of Kenyon for President of the Republican ticket in 1920 and gossip has it that many of the Republican leaders would not be averse to the nomination of Kenyon if anything developed to disqualify Mr. Coolidge. Judge Kenyon has the confidence of western Republicans whose aid is so vital to the decision of the most Presidential ticket. Indeed, a ticket composed of Coolidge for President and Kenyon for Vice President would be a distinct advantage to the Coolidge campaign. Acceptance of the portfolio of Attorney General might bring such confidence throughout the country in the administration of the Department of Justice as to warrant the Coolidge supporters in urging Kenyon to leave the bench, take the Attorney Generalship and win the Vice Presidential nomination.

Mr. Kenyon was an assistant attorney general in the Taft administration and made a splendid record in prosecuting the trust cases. Judge Kenyon did not participate in the selection of Mr. Brookhart as Republican Senator from Iowa, but he was not displeased by the choice. He is by no means unsympathetic to the Brookhart attitude, something which conservatives of the Taft would have to swallow if they drafted Kenyon.

port has already become public property, but there remain details which are too important to permit any real crystallization of opinion until these details are cleared up.

So far, on the testimony of everybody, the French government has given a free hand to French members of the commissions; the same is true of the Belgian, British and Italian governments. The reports, when they are at last issued two or three weeks hence, will, in all probability, be unanimous. But then will come the great question of whether the French government will dare or care to recommend unqualified adoption. By refraining from all interference before the reports are made, France has in a time avoided hampering the work of the commissions and kept a free hand for himself in the end. France is terribly worried by the fall of the franc; it is disappointed by the recent collapse of the Francophile-Belgian cabinet of Theunis. The whole situation is floating, profoundly affected by a sense of insecurity and doubt. Political change here is at least possible if not probable. The Poincare Ministry has only temporarily survived severe attacks and remains vulnerable, if for the present possessing a renewed lease of life.

France in Doubt About Acceptance

Writing from England, I emphasized the general note of optimism. In this first dispatch from Paris I would at least lay equal emphasis upon the note of caution which underlies all French comment from all quarters. France is more hopeful than in the recent past, but also its financial situation is more alarming. There are obvious reasons why there should be even a forced note of optimism.

In two or three weeks the two commissions will make reports which will break new ground, submit methods and means for the restoration of German finances, for balancing the German budgets. They will certainly insist upon larger German payments than the Germans expect. They will place at a higher figure, than anyone had expected the amount of German capital which has fled the country, but they are just as certain to insist upon the economic unity of Germany, that is, upon the reclamation of the Ruhr.

Will France—now merely so mainly Poincare—accept this decision? One may say and think with a degree of accuracy that the chances of French acceptance have increased very materially in the last few weeks, but to judge from the first preliminary round of the investigation it seems to me that the French mind is not yet made up, that it is too early to forecast the French decision with any degree of accuracy. MacDonald has removed the element of suspicion, French and British exchanges are more cordial, more frank than at any time for years. But there remains one dominating question. Is there any easy or even possible line of reconciliation between the vital interests of the two countries, assuming good faith and confidence on both sides?

That remains a question; that is why I say that while hope is manifest, hesitation is not less disconcerting. We are approaching a great crisis, the chances of a just and more improving, but with the atmosphere favorable, the realities of the problem remains solid in the French mind, and have not yet been in any degree dealt with.

Open Drive to Stop Capital Punishment

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The Women's University Republican Club has started a movement which, if successful, will abolish capital punishment in Ohio. At a meeting yesterday five committees were appointed to organize workers to spread propaganda for legislation against the death penalty.

"Life imprisonment without hope of pardon should be substituted for the death penalty in a civilized country," Mrs. William L. Bailey, president of the club, declared. Workers will be sent into small towns in the campaign. Where there are no women's Republican organizations, the workers also will attempt to organize clubs.

Peebles Company to Fill Orders

Despite damage of $100,000 to plants one and two of the Peebles Paving Brick Co. at New Boston, early yesterday morning, local building activities requiring brick will proceed unhampered, officials of the company declared last night. Two hundred and twenty-five men were thrown out of employment by the blaze, however.

Capacity of the two plants, which were being worked to the utmost, was 100,000 brick a day. Plant No. 1 had a capacity of only 40,000 and this plant escaped with the lightest damage. Reconstruction activities will be concentrated on this plant in order to restore production within two months.

In the meanwhile, orders can be filled from the stock of between five and six million brick stored at the Peebles yard, and the Dixie plant at Firebrick, Ky., will be worked to the utmost capacity of 30,000 brick a day, Joseph Peebles, general superintendent, declared last night.

Cleveland Get Some Better Tasting Water

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Only a few persons seeking pure spring water were journeying to city parks today, although the bad taste in city water had not entirely disappeared.

City officials who said the phenol that had made Lake Erie water unpalatable for several days, had passed the water works intakes, presented clear and tasteless water by tonight. The first step to rid the city water mains of standing contamination was taken yesterday by flushing low pressure pipes and dead-end mains.

City Manager Hopkins has urged steel companies to speed installation of equipment to eliminate the phenol from the waste dumped into the Cuyahoga river from their plants.

They say they have been reunited as a result of a statement by Mrs. Brewster that her husband has not attempted to divorce her and does not intend to marry Miss Palmer.

DON'T BE HALF SICK ALL WINTER

ALL health is more of a fault than a misfortune. If you are weak, thin and run down it's your duty to yourself and family to get well. More than likely all you need is a good tonic. You have heard many people say that nothing builds up the strength and purifies and enriches the blood like Gude's Pepto-Mangan. That is true. Hundreds of thousands of people have proved it. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years.

Get Gude's from your druggist—liquid or tablets—and begin to take it.

How Can We Afford To Make This Astounding and Sensational Offer?

It's easily explained: The food products and delicious beverages included in our list of premiums have been given to us absolutely FREE by the progressive dealers who sell them, for the purpose of introducing them into homes where they are not already known and used, and as a complimentary gift to those purchasers of Sellers Cabinets who being familiar with the merits of these products are already using them.

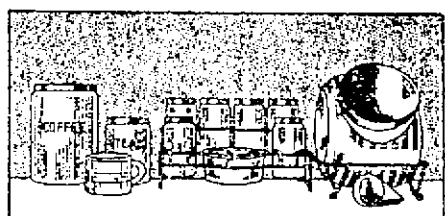

The measuring cups and the 10-piece set of kitchen cutlery are presented with the compliments of the Sellers Co.

The 22-piece aluminum sets are gifts from the Lewis Furniture Co. We bought a tremendous quantity of these sets for our chain of 5 stores and bought them at a very much lower figure than the smaller dealer who buys in lesser quantities must pay. We believe that by giving away these excellent sets to people who favor us with their patronage we will not only make our customers happier but will win a lot of new friends. Money spent for such gifts is not an expense but a mighty good investment.

The 11-piece glassware sets and the 10-piece kitchen cutlery sets are regular features of Sellers Kitchen Cabinets.

There is positively no extra charge added to the cost of Sellers kitchen cabinets to offset the cost of these gifts. They are actually given FREE with each cabinet sold and you couldn't buy one for a cent less if we didn't give a single premium with it. This is a real opportunity if there ever was one.

going to tell these people and also tell his wife he is stepping out. Just what do you think of a man like that? Do you think he is in his right mind? He also calls women up over the phone and tries to make dates with them. Everyone who knows how he is carrying on think he is "cuckoo." It is too bad he can't see himself as others see him, and hear some of the remarks they make about him. Maybe he would stay at home if he knew what they thought about him.

OBSESSIVE.
I think all married mothers would stay at home if they knew what people thought about them. They are not putting anything over on anyone but themselves, no matter how busy they think they are. Men like that usually keep right at it until there is an explosion and they disengage themselves and their families, and that is what will happen to the man you speak of, sooner or later.

Dear Dolly—We are two girls in the sophomore class and our mothers are very strict and do not allow us to go with the boys. Dolly, do you see any harm in a bunch of girls going for a ride with a couple of boys? Our parents object to this. Also what answer should a girl give to a boy when he asks her for a date? If you do or you don't?

PUSHS AND BOOTS.
Why ask me for advice when you have such good mothers to look after you? If you will do as they say you will not go wrong. Speaking of dates, if you want the dates say so, and if not say so. In your case I think you should tell the boys that you are not dating with anyone while in school.

Dear Dolly—I am in love with a man and he says he likes me, but I know that he likes me at all. Dolly, do you know a good remedy for a person who does not tell you the truth?

FRECKLES.
If you are positive that he does not tell you the truth, don't have anything more to do with him. An irresponsible flake is dangerous to have around.

Dear Dolly—I have a pale blue Easter suit and hat and I would like to know what kind of slippers and hose I should get to wear with it? Would I have to get them all the same color to have a complete Easter outfit?

SCOTCHVILLE READER.
If you expect to look like an Easter egg, you should get them to match, but if I were you I would have a little contrast. For instance, you might get a pair of black satin slippers or pumps, the kind with the straight medium heel, and black hose. Or you might wear flesh of banana colored hose with the black pumps. A gray suede or kid pump would also go nicely with your Easter egg suit. If you haven't purchased a hat as yet, don't get one the same color as your dress, unless you have something on it to relieve the sameness and give it a smart touch.

Dear Dolly—Has Selby's a branch shoe factory in Columbus and where is it located? Is the plant now in operation? Also, please tell me where the Day Nurseries are located, and how much it costs to keep a child through the day.

THANK YOU.
Selby's Columbus branch factory is located at 211 North Fifth street and is now operating. The Oak street day nursery is not far from there. There is also a North Side Day Nursery, I do not know the charges but a letter to either of these nurseries will bring you the desired information.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

THE BEANSTALK SCARECROW

"I'm the Scarecrow of Beanstalk Land."

"Would you mind taking your foot out of my eye?" asked a voice suddenly.

Nancy and Nick were so surprised they nearly fell off the top of the queer looking scarecrow, up which they had just climbed.

"Who are you?" called Nancy. "Who is talking?"

"I'm the scarecrow of Beanstalk Land," said the scarecrow. "And you are sticking your toes into all sorts of places. When you were climbing up my ribs, you tickled me off with shivering. But one thing I must speak about, and that is my eyes. If you put them out I can't watch for the crows. True, my eyes are only made of corn cobs, as are also my nose and mouth, but they are all the more likely to fall out."

The twins were amazed to think that they had climbed all the way to the top of such an important person without knowing it. Who would ever dream of a scarecrow being as high as a park monument?

"We're awfully sorry," apologized Nick. "We'll get down at once." "No, don't please," begged the scarecrow. "I love to have company, even if they do sit on my head. I get so lonely out here in the field with nobody to talk to. You've no idea what it's like. Do you know any stories?"

"Oh, do tell me one," urged the scarecrow. "If you tell me one, I'll tell you one, that's fair."

"Yes, indeed," declared Nancy. So she told him the story about the scarecrow in Squeaky-Moo Land, who hit the strange dog with his stick, when he went to steal the bone Milo had buried at the scarecrow's feet.

"So, you see, a scarecrow can be a hero, even if he does stand in a corn field and never move," said Nick. "Some people say that his stick was ready to drop anyway, but we know better. He told us so himself. And he saved Milo's bone and the strange dog never came back."

"That's a lovely story!" sighed the scarecrow. "I know how he must have felt. I'm quite sure that some day, if the crows don't stop pestering me, I, too, shall lose my temper completely and give a dozen of them a trouncing."

"Don't forget your story!" reminded Nancy.

"No, I shan't!" declared the scarecrow. "I'll begin at once. It's about burying, too! One dark night I was awakened by voices quite near me. The moon was under a cloud and I couldn't see a thing, but I heard every word. One man said, 'Let's bury it here. No one will ever think of looking!'"

"Another one said, 'A very good idea! The corn will grow up soon and it will be as safe here as a bank.'"

"Rich corn, it ought to be," laughed another as though he had made a joke.

"Then I heard digging and all sorts of noises and the men went away. But when the moon came out, there was a mound of fresh dirt and I knew they had put something into the ground."

"What was it?" cried Nick eagerly. "It sounds like pirates!"

"I never found out," declared the scarecrow, and I've nearly died of curiosity. Whatever it was it is there yet, for all the wicked giants in Beanstalk Land were killed long ago, and I think this must have been their treasure."

BEANS that are not baked are not labeled baked beans. Heinz Baked Beans have "Heinz Baked Beans" on the label. They are baked. That's the reason for their wonderfully sweet flavor. That's the secret of their unbroken jackets, their mealy centers, ease of digestion and body-building nutriment.

There are four kinds of HEINZ BAKED BEANS
Baked Beans with Pork and Tomato Sauce, Baked Beans without Tomato Sauce, with Pork (Boston Style), Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce without meat (Vegetarian), Baked Red Kidney Beans.

Galle Ann SAYS

A new rage in the millinery world is the combination of black and white. The Fashion, always first with new style ideas, is showing a group of pattern hats by Lazarus in which black straws or silk crepes are cleverly combined with white kid. They are chic, daring and distinctively different. I was agreeably surprised to find them, priced at only twelve dollars.

They go beautifully with the new O'Roson boyish suits of which The Fashion is featuring a pretentious group from $30 to $50.50. For Saturday's selling The Fashion is offering a splendid lot of tweed boyish suits at only $24.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THE FRIENDLY HERMIT

"Hush up, there, old fellow!" shouted Jack. "Those skins won't hurt the hermit. He noticed the dog's interest in the line of furs, and he said, 'I'll leave your dog to make a good hunting As soon as we make a big canoe we'll take him out and try him

Then the hermit picked up a huge tool and headed it to Jack. "You carry this and follow me. I'll find a good log and then show you how to hack out a canoe." After gathering some other tool the hermit led the way out of the tent and into a deep-trunked portion of the woods.

Suddenly stopping in front of a partly dead tree he announced that he could make a real canoe out of the tree's trunk. Shortly he and Jack were sawing away and in no time at all the tree toppled over. "Now," said the hermit, "you just sit down on the ground and watch me work." (Continued.)

Bitter Debate In Senate Over Coolidge's Telegrams to McLean

Quality Above All

This has been our policy with

"SALADA"

TEA

H499

Millions will now use no other blend. The quality never varies. — Try it today.

Senator Lodge said:

"I think the president of the United States ought not to be attacked in this body. I think he is entitled to the full respect of the senate in debate and of all senators."

"I have no sympathy. I will frankly confess, with the kind of debate to which the country has been treated in the last six weeks. I think it is lowering the character of the senate to have its time taken hour after hour in vilification of all sorts of men, whether guilty or innocent, and exchanges of personal vituperation on the floor of the senate among senators themselves."

"I have known the present president of the United States for a number of years. His private life, as his public life, has been without spot or blemish. The present scandal of corruption or conduct in office has never come near him."

Under Trying Circumstances
"He came into his present great office under the most trying circumstances which can beset a president when he goes into the White House, and that is by the death of his predecessor."

"I think he has borne himself well, very well. You may be assured that he will be as prompt to punish misconduct in the public service as any man."

who now listens to me in this senate."

Replying to Senator Lodge, Senator Harrison, declared he had made no attack upon the president.

"I submitted the telegram," he said, "which was sent by the president, with his name attached, to Ed. McLean at Palm Beach. I could have gone further. I could have said that the White House had been in constant touch with McLean; the White House, through its officials, had notified McLean at Palm Beach of almost the exact moment that Sloop, the president's private secretary, had left the White House for Florida; that McLean was kept in touch with Sloop's movements."

"Suspicion does attach to Sloop for Sloop was down there in company with Fall during I believe for twelve days at the same table with Ned McLean and with Fall."

Interjecting Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama Senator Caraway asked if the record showed that when President Wilson was being assailed that the senator from Massachusetts came to his defense.

"On the contrary," replied Senator Heflin, "he was leading the charge against him. He was right in the forefront of the fight."

"No, it makes a lot of difference whose ox is being gored."

Pope Names Two Cardinals In Recognition Of America's Aid For Stricken Europeans

ROME, March 7.—By the A. P.—Two American prelates will be elevated to the cardinalate at the secret consistory to be held March 21. They are Archbishop Hayes of New York and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago.

This announcement was made at the Vatican today. Pope Pius in giving two additional red hats to the United States was moved by the generous response of the American people to the appeals of the suffering states of Europe. The pontiff is said also to have desired to honor the people of the United States for their display of self-denial and loyalty.

Pope Pius has long admired the work of Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein and after due consideration to the claims of other countries for increases in their memberships in the sacred college he decided that the United States was most deserving and that Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein were the most deserving.

The Vatican expressed the view that the addition of two new American cardinals to the sacred college will add strength to the highest church council, as well as give the United States more even representation both geographically and numerically.

It was recognized that New York because of its importance as the metropolis, should have a cardinal, but that the rest of the country could not be neglected in the bestowal of red hats; that Chicago, the center of such important territory would not longer be denied the honor.

Engine Blows Up; One Trainman Killed
WARREN, PENN., March 7.—A trainman was killed and two others were seriously injured when a locomotive blowing out of control on the Valley branch of the New York Central blew up near here this evening. Brakeman Frank Dickinson of Dickinson died soon after being taken to a hospital. Several cars were derailed and the tracks damaged.

Trivial, Says Lodge
Adverting to Senator Harrison's address, Senator Lodge declared the address was "a perfectly explicable one." He said the president had wanted to consult Mr. Prescott, who was chairman of the Republican committee of the District of Columbia, in regard to district matters and was informed that Mr. Prescott was away.

Deploping attacks upon the president, Senator Lodge said:

A Grocer Got Rid of

PYORRHEA

In Just Ten Days

Morris Zellinger, a well known grocer of 622 S. Maple St., Akron, Ohio, shows how glad he is that he used Jo-Vex. He sends this letter. He treated himself at home.

The Jo-Vex Chemical Products Co., Akron, Ohio, Gentlemen—I had suffered from pyorrhea for several years until about ten days ago, a friend told me about Jo-Vex. After a few days treatment the tenderness, pus and bleeding disappeared and now, after ten days, the teeth have tightened and my gums are in a normal and healthy condition. The results I obtained with Jo-Vex seem phenomenal, inasmuch as I have been treated by dentists without avail. (Signed) Morris Zellinger.

Jo-Vex does more than help the sore, bleeding, spazy gums—it banishes pyorrhea forever and is guaranteed to do so by Fisher & Streich, Wurster Bros., and all good druggists everywhere—it hasn't failed yet.—Advertisement.

Butler Starts Drive Against Political Gang

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 7.—By The A. P.—Director of Public Safety Joseph P. Butler, today fired the opening gun in his fight against politicians whom he declared were obstructing his campaign against lawlessness. He previously had been assured the support of church leaders and club women, who are planning a concerted "march on city hall" to show politicians whether public opinion favors his method of law enforcement.

City Treasurer Thomas F. Watson, chairman of the Republican city committee, who was quoted in an address as having said "Philadelphia would be better off without Butler," was the general's first target. Addressing police headquarters in his office, General Butler warned them to divorce themselves from politics or resign, and add:

"We must smoke Watson out of city hall. We will see if he can run the police or not. Don't let politicians talk to you. I will blow out of the sky any politician who dares to speak to a policeman and make an illegal request. When I am talking to directed at Mr. Watson and all other politicians. It must make any difference to you whether I stay here or not. I will not resign and if I am put out, I will tell who."

9 INJURED IN EXPLOSION CAUSED BY ELECTRICAL TEST AT SCHOOL

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 7.—(By The A. P.)—An explosion of a three pound sack of gunpowder, ignited during an electrical test in the high school at Toronto, O., yesterday resulted in the injury of 9 students and two teachers. Twelve students were in the laboratory when the explosion occurred.

The most seriously injured were Prof. Harold M. Ruch, 32, chemistry teacher and athletic instructor, severely burned on the head, face and neck, and Miss Esther Jones, 16, student, whose clothing and hair became ignited. They are being cared for in a hospital.
Miss Thelma Todd, Gladden Warren and Rayton Eddy, students and Principal S. A. Gill, severely burned about the head and hands, were taken to their homes after their injuries were treated at the hospital. Four of the victims were unconscious when found.

The explosion occurred while Prof. Ruch was making a test to determine whether electricity would penetrate rock, according to the story told the police. A spark from the stone ignited the powder, students said.

The blast wrecked the laboratory, located on the third floor of the building, and caused confusion among the several hundred students whom teachers had difficulty in calming. School was dismissed for the day.

Mary Frances
Tells Her Chum
About Styles

Mary Frances just can't talk fast enough to tell her chum all about the lovely new Easter Clothes for young girls that she saw in the Twixteen Shop at Kline's. Not one of the new styles missed her eye.

Touches Of Plaid Brighten Frocks

"The new trimmings are darling—tricky rows of buttons, gay touches of plaid, Chinese embroidery and new uses of shirring," she exclaimed. "The best part," she went on to say, "is that they are stylish and smart, and yet youthful enough to meet mother's approval. $15."

Monogrammed Blouses

"I couldn't resist the new English broadcloth blouses. They have the best looking black monograms and you know monograms are the last word this Spring. Of course they are over blouses and if you wear them with a sport skirt, they make a cute outfit for school. Only $3."

Sport Skirts Are Pleated

"It is wonderful to see that pleated skirts are good this Spring. Last year I found it almost impossible to play tennis in a tight skirt. It is hard to decide which I like best, the plaids or the stripes, they are both so smart. Just $5."

Suits With Boxy Jackets Smart

She told her chum that she overheard her mother say that this is a season of Suits so she took a good look at the Suits! "I almost disgraced myself by whistling when I saw a cute little charmer suit trimmed with gay Roman striped silk at $25."

Slipons Fine For School

"I've never seen so many pretty colored sweaters. The newest shade is powder blue, and it is sort of a greyish blue that is lovely in the daylight. A powder blue sweater would be lovely with a grey skirt. In lavender, almond green, tan, Slipons $5."

Suede Applique Sweaters

"Many of the coat sweaters are appliqued with grey, white and tan suede. I liked these sweaters because they looked dressier than most sweaters. The plain Coat Sweaters are cute, too. They look just like boys' sweaters. $5."

FORMER ENGLISH ENVOY DEFENDS U. S. PROHIBITION

LONDON, March 7.—(By the A. P.) Sir Auckland Geddes, whom the pill-box entertained last night honoring his return from Washington, kept his word, which he gave upon departing from New York, that he would continue as official ambassador of the American people on this side of the Atlantic, by a remarkable speech, which for candor and frankness has rarely been surpassed at a meeting of the Anglo-American society. The former British ambassador had barely started before he covered the distinguished gathering by saying:

"I don't think the people of England recognize amid the mass of stories of violation of the prohibition laws of the United States how strong the feeling of the minds of the best American people is on the subject of prohibition. Even the American people, given the American climate, I think if I were an American, I would be a prohibitionist."

The former ambassador resumed in serious vein, however, saying that seldom had there been a more humiliating position for any British ambassador than to go week after week to see the secretary of state for the purpose of proposing "the release of this, that or the other respectable British or alleged British schooner engaged in landing staff which anybody should have been ashamed of."

PARAGON REFINING CO. TILT OVER CONTROL

TOLEDO, O., March 7.—(By the A. P.)—Cincinnati interests were prevented from gaining control of the Paragon Refining company here today when Toledo policy-holders worked out of the annual meeting and postponed all business until April 3, due to the lack of quorum. It was said that Cincinnati stockholders control thirty per cent of the stock but desired to name seven directors of the board.

Toledo and Cleveland interests would only have had six representatives.

Operating statement prepared for the fourteen months ending December 31, shows loss of $74,880 for the period with depreciation and other charges amounting to a total of $814,572. Loss on assets, reduction of book value, and other items brought the deficit total for the period to $2,343,536, making total deficit now stand at $3,557,572.

But all situation is responsible for the poor showing of the company in the last two years.

JUDGE SAYS SUNDAY LAW ENFORCEMENT MUST BE IMPARTIAL

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 7.—(By The A. P.)—An alternative writ, directing Mayor Charles F. Scheible and Police Chief Keigewin to refrain from impartially the selection of the Ohio general code pertaining to Sunday closing, was issued today by Common Pleas Judge George H. Gesner.

The writ was issued on a petition by proprietors of eleven gasoline filling stations who charge Mayor Scheible and Chief Keigewin with discriminating against them by forcing them to close and allowing cigar stores, garages, motion-picture theatres and other places to remain open.

MANY ALTERATIONS ASKED FOR FORD'S SHOALS MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(By The A. P.)—Close of general debate in the house on Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals late today opened the way for a flood of amendments offered as consideration of the McKeezie bill was begun section by section.

A variety of proposals to make drastic changes in the terms of the proposed contract were submitted, with representatives indicating that many more would be offered tomorrow when consideration of the measure is resumed. None of the amendments offered today was put to a vote.

In brief those seeking to amend the McKeezie bill would place the Detroit manufacturer under jurisdiction of the federal water power act and limit his lease to fifty instead of one hundred years, and make the lease binding not only on the corporation to be formed by Mr. Ford but also the manufacturer himself.

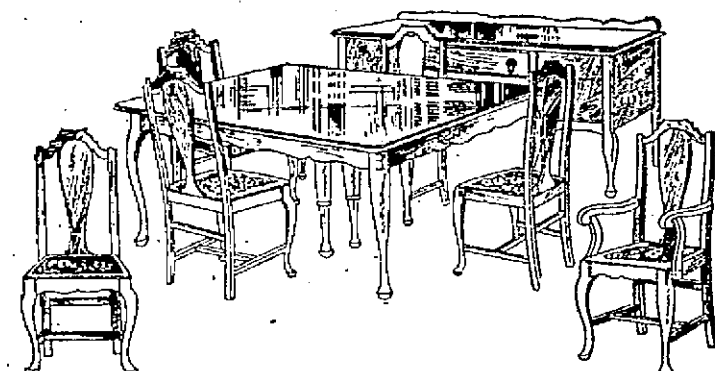

Opponents also would have specified by the measure that Mr. Ford be compelled to generate surplus power for sale and that this be made available at least two hundred miles from the power properties; that the nitrate plants be leased instead of sold and that a more binding guarantee as to the manufacture of fertilizer be required.

SAYS COMPANY IS NOT AFTER AIR MONOPOLY

NEW YORK, March 7.—(By the A. P.)—The American Telephone & Telegraph company does not desire "a monopoly of the air," H. B. Thayer, its president, declared today in connection with the suit brought by the National Broadcasting station, WJLB, broadcasting A. T. & T. radio waves. The action was only an effort to protect patent rights conceded by the complainant for radio broadcasting devices, Mr. Thayer said. When WJLB is operated here by Lewis and George Schubert, when the public became interested in the company by wireless telephoning, Mr. Thayer said, "the company arranged so that inventions could become available to the public by purchase of apparatus at reasonable prices."

Don't let constipation make you an invalid —relieve it with Kellogg's Bran

Few people realize how dangerous is constipation until this dread disease tears down their health. Did you know that more than forty serious diseases can be traced to constipation? Keep your health, or restore it, with Kellogg's Bran, cooked and kum-bled. It brings relief in mild and chronic cases of constipation. It is effective because it is ALL bran. That is why it is recommended so highly by doctors. They know that only ALL bran can bring 100 per cent results. Part bran is, at best, only a halfway measure.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief—even in the most chronic case. It is guaranteed to do so. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Ohioan Fined For Removing Fermented Fruit Juice Appeals To High Court

COLUMBUS, March 7.—By the A. P.—The state supreme court today was asked by Joseph Osk of South Amherst, Lorain county, to decide whether a man may move fruit juices along with his household goods in changing residences. The fruit juices, it is admitted, had fermented and contained more than a half of one per cent of alcohol.

Osk, a day laborer, was preparing to move from one street to another in South Amherst, last October. He had two barrels containing wild cherry and blackberry juice in his cellar which he had made for his own use. He wanted to move the fruit juices also, but to be on the safe side, he went to Mayor

Engle and asked him whether he would be permitted to move the juices. The mayor gave him no answer, so Osk proceeded to move the barrels containing the juices along with his furniture.

Arrested While Moving. While enroute to his new home, Osk was arrested on a charge of transporting liquor, tried before Mayor Engle, found guilty, and fined $1,000 and costs. Common pleas and appellate courts affirmed the conviction.

Osk contends that inasmuch as the prohibition law permits him to make fruit juices for his own use, and although they may develop more than a half of one per cent in the natural process of fermentation, he also is permitted to move the beverage along with his household effects. He also contends that the juices never left his home, that his home while he was moving was on the moving van which carried the household goods and the juices.

A chemical test of the juices showed they contained 12 1/2 per cent and 14 per cent of alcohol by volume.

RE-OPEN TUT'S TOMB WITH BIG CEREMONY

LUXOR, EGYPT, March 7.—(By The A. P.)—The re-opening of the tomb of Tutankhamen today for inspection by some 200 visitors, guests of the Egyptian government, was preceded by the picturesque ceremony following the custom in the days of the Pharaoh, the sacrificing of two bulls in the center of the tomb. The first party, made up of ministers and high officials, was present.

Thousands of natives and sheiks in gorgeous costumes, singing to the accompaniment of Egyptian instruments. After the sacrifice the government parties were entertained by feasts of horsemanship performed by the sheiks.

The tomb will now be closed until March 10, when it will be re-opened for ten days to permit the police to inspect it.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

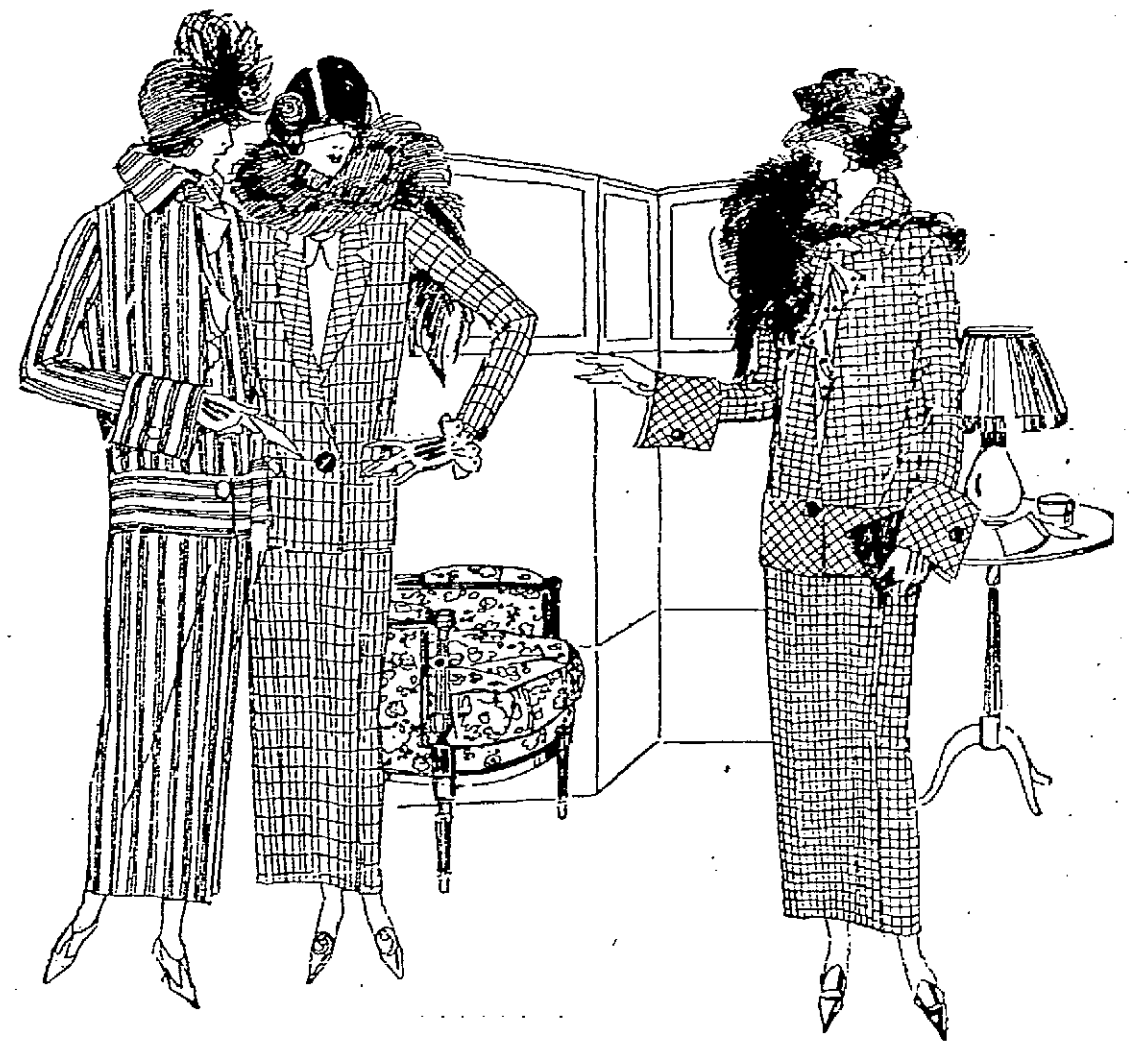

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Three Cornered Auto Mishap

The accelerator on a car may be a little thing, but, oh, boy, what a heap of trouble it can stir up when it takes a notion.

Yesterday morning Judge Harry Ball came down to his office, parked his car on the north side of the Gallia street car lane.

Miss Kate McMahon, who is employed in the Land Office, drove up to park her car along side of Judge Ball's car when her accelerator became fastened, and she could not stop the car.

As a result, Miss McMahon's car ran into Judge Ball's machine. The judge's car jumped over the curb and ran along over the sidewalk and into the car of Walter Eisinga's car.

TOOK CARDUI TO BUILD UP

Georgia Lady Says She's Sure of the Merit of Cardui, Having Taken It for 25 Years, Whenever Needed

Elizier, Ga.—A quarter of a century's successful use of Cardui, taken on many different occasions when needed, is reported by Mrs. Thomas H. Kell, a near-by resident.

"When I was a girl of 13," said Mrs. Kell, "my mother gave me Cardui as a tonic, with very good results."

Mrs. Kell explained that her second use of Cardui came after her marriage, shortly before she became a mother. "I needed something to build me up," she said, "and I immediately sent and got a bottle of Cardui. I took it regularly before the birth of every one of my children, and I have always gotten along well at that time."

"My last two babies were twins, and before they came, I grew very weak. I could scarcely get around, to do my work. I got Cardui and took it and kept it up. I never went to bed and am sure the Cardui did it."

"My health is very good now. I recovered my strength quickly after the twins came and this I attribute to the use of Cardui."

Cardui is a safe, purely vegetable, medicinal tonic medicine, proved valuable in helping to relieve thousands of cases of womanly weakness, such as Mrs. Kell describes above.

For sale everywhere, by druggists.

Frederick Host to Firemen

Members of the Seventh street fire station and a group of friends enjoyed an elegant "feed" Thursday evening with Al. Frederick, genial grocer, Eighth and Court streets, in the role of host.

The feast was served at the fire station and roast pig was the chief piece of resistance on the menu, which included all the trimmings, and it was a real treat to the guests as well as the fire laddies, who fully demonstrated when around the banquet board that they can do something beside fight fires.

Looking Into The Traffic Situation

To traffic situation is giving safety Director George Koerner and Police Rome Arthur no little concern these days and the two officials are spending much time in an effort to work out some plan in the hope of solving the problem.

The police department is preparing for the "spring drive" in an effort to better traffic conditions and it will be launched as soon as some plan is definitely decided upon as to the best course to pursue.

Chief Arthur said, and added, "We propose to keep hammering away until there is marked improvement in the traffic situation here."

"The first problem is that of marking off the streets. Of course, we might go out tonight and mark off a dozen streets, and then find it impractical, and have to change the markings, which would be bound to result in confusion.

"This is one of the pitfalls we want to avoid. We are studying the lay of the streets, and going over the situation. When we have finished the work of mapping out a parking system, we will mark off the streets plainly, so that there can be no mistaking what the white lines mean."

"We believe that the public will cooperate in the spirit of public service. Public safety demands some sort of system and a rigid enforcement of the rules, and these will be provided. I believe that the people of Portsmouth are going to back up this movement," Chief Arthur continued.

Vote On Ford Offer Is Again Delayed

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Hope for a vote late today by the house on the McKenzie bill authorizing acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals was virtually abandoned when consideration of the measure was resumed at noon.

The good of amendments had not run its course yesterday and further efforts were made today to force drastic changes in the measure. The amendments already submitted, save the members plenty of work to start with today, but leading proponents and opponents of the Ford offer joined in attempting to expedite the bill to make way for other pressing legislation, and a vote before adjournment tomorrow was regarded as certain.

Passengers Are Shaken Up

CINCINNATI, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Two, capably loaded passengers on their way to work were badly shaken up, three persons were injured and a dozen more received cuts and bruises when a "one-man" operated McMillen-Main street car slid on slippery rails and crashed into the rear of a Clifton-Lindlow car today.

The most seriously injured were Joseph Wehrle, 60; Miss Lillie Vogt, 45, cigar maker, and Mrs. Catherine Genswar, 50.

Says Legislature Should Aid School

TROY, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Walter J. Albright, of Miami county, has written Robert H. Dunn, speaker of the house of representatives, declaring that the present crisis in the school situation in the state, merits necessary expense and inconvenience of calling the legislative body together for the purpose of providing funds for schools to complete the present school term. Mr. Dunn is a member of the legislative committee empowered to reconvene the legislature.

Committee Split On Bonus Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The House Ways and Means Committee faced the risk of splitting over a bill to provide for the payment of bonus money to World War veterans today.

The committee was divided over two proposals. Representative Buchanan, Republican, New Jersey, stood firmly for a bill providing only for paid-up insurance policy payments, but several members of both parties were equally determined that an option of full cash payments be incorporated.

Chairman Green had planned to have the bill whipped into shape so that it might be reported to the house by tomorrow, but the discussion over its form is expected to result in a delay of a day or two at least.

If the two plans now before the committee fail of adoption, Mr. Green said he would propose the bill passed at the last session and vetoed by President Harding. It provided for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $20,000 adjusted service certificates, vocational training or farm and home aid.

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

LORAIN, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles Ryan, 38, died from injuries, and William Maybe, 39, is in St. Joseph's Hospital, in a serious condition following an automobile accident last night in which the car driven by Ryan collided with a city street car.

Ryan died in St. Joseph's Hospital early today. Maybe, the other occupant of the automobile, sustained lacerations and internal injuries.

NEW YORK, March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Sir Frederick Cecil Hartwell, baronet, internationally advertised as a peddler of Scotch whiskey, is believed by Federal officials to be aboard the liquor running steam yacht Istar, personally supervising the peddling of a shipload of Scotch whiskey.

Tax Payments Held Back In Hopes of Getting a Reduction

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The house revenue bill came under the detailed scrutiny of the Senate Finance Committee today after its completion yesterday of preliminary work, including receipt of a report by treasury officials of the estimated effect of the measure on government revenue.

Such action has been asked by the Treasury Department with the explanation that tax payers are holding back their usual payments in the hope of obtaining the reduction, with the result that revenue receipts have dropped considerably.

Japs Flocking to Cuba

HONOLULU, February 27.—(By mail to the Associated Press)—The vanguard of what may develop into extensive Japanese immigration for Cuba, passed through Honolulu recently on the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Hakuyo Maru, which is carrying thirty workmen for the island sugar plantation. These, according to the vessel's officers, form the first of several groups which are leaving Japan for Cuba, where they are guaranteed a daily wage of $1.50.

Students Hear From Their Toy Balloon

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Two months ago Gordon Boller and Edgar Groff, pupils of the South High School here, attached their names and addresses to a toy balloon and released it. As time passed they abandoned hope of ever hearing what became of it. They had just about decided that it must or that the gas had escaped and it was lost in the lake, when they received a letter yesterday from Robert E. Phayre, a farmer of Hamburg, N. Y., telling them that he had found the balloon in his field.

Saunders Enjoined From Opening Store

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Forbidden by a Federal injunction, Clarence Saunders, former head of Piggly-Wiggly, today refused to open his new store, intended as an impressive inauguration of a new chain system, he has organized. Instead, Saunders and his followers held forth in the street, where three hands blared and eruptions were dished out by the wagon load. Thousands visited the little store in Madison avenue.

Acting on a petition of the Piggly-Wiggly Corporation, which Saunders founded, Judge J. W. Ross late yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining operation of the new store system until the claim of the corporation to Saunders' patents can be settled. Judge Ross will hear the case March 17. The corporation posted $20,000 bond to protect Saunders from loss through the tie-up of his new enterprise.

Pope Recognizes Catholics Of America for Steadfastness

Good News For Ailing Women
Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent country-wide canvass of over 121,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial. Advertisers.

ROME, March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Archbishop Hayes, of New York, and Archbishop Mundelein, of Chicago, will receive their red hats, insignia of the cardinalate at a public consistory on March 27, three days after the secret consistory in which their elevation to the sacred college will take place.

The news that the two American prelates had been designated for this honor has taken the Catholic world here somewhat by surprise, because of the unusual fact that two red hats are to be bestowed upon the same country at the same consistory. It is conceded, however, that this is done in tribute to the growing independence of the United States in the eyes of the Vatican and as a compliment to the American church and out of the affection of Pope Pius for America and things American.

The importance of America in the councils of the Catholic church has always been given great consideration by the pontiff, for one of his first acts after his election was to extend the time limit between the death of a pope and the election of a successor so the American cardinals could reach Rome in time for the opening conclave.

Furthermore, the American church has been recognized as thoroughly steadfast to the Holy See, registering its devotion both spiritually and materially and emphasizing it by numerous tokens. The American pilgrims who come to Rome through all seasons of the year greatly outnumber those of other lands.

Sends Questionnaire On Bonus Problem

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Congressman Martin J. Davey, of the Fourteenth Ohio District, is circulating questionnaires among former service men to get their views on the bonus question. Copies of the questionnaire were received here today.

Questions, only one of which was to be answered, affirmatively, are:

Do you believe the government is under a strong moral obligation to pay adjusted compensation to ex-service men? Are you more or less indifferent about this question of adjusted compensation, but willing to accept payment if the bill is passed by congress? Are you opposed to adjusted compensation on principle and do you believe that congress ought to pass such a bill?

Greenfield Man, Well Known Here, Is Killed While Cleaning Shotgun

For The Cough That Sticks

Common Cough Syrups Won't Help—You've Got To Make Your Own

Cheap and Best

For any kind of a cough, but especially for the stubborn one that persists and keeps you awake nights this home made cough mixture will quickly lessen the cough, stop the inflammation and stop the cough.

You can make it yourself at home in 10 minutes by following these instructions:

Get from any druggist one ounce of liquid (double strength) to this add half granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one half substance in this home made mixture spreads itself completely over the inflamed surface of the throat. This causes the inflamed surface to subside and the cough to cease instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

It's a mighty fine remedy for chest and acute nasal catarrh, and remember that any remedy that overcomes such, partially or wholly, is bound to do benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness, ear pain and get better—Advertisement.

Mrs. Anna McDermott of 639 Seventh street has received the sad news of the tragic death of Joseph Enel Murdock, of New Petersburg, Ohio. He was accidentally killed while cleaning a shotgun preparatory to going out to shoot crows. He was at home alone at the time of the accident and was lying in a pool of blood when his mother entered the room. The receiver of the telephone was down, showing that he had attempted to summon aid after the accident, but he was too weak to wait for an answer. Neighbors rushed to the aid of the grief-stricken mother and arranged ments were being made to remove the wounded man to the hospital when he died without regaining consciousness. Mr. Murdock was to have been married to Miss Cordella Mullikan, a sister of Mrs. McDermott, two weeks from the date of the accident. They had their honeymoon planned and their furniture bought. Miss Mullikan, who is a resident of Greenfield, Ohio, and her fiancé were both well known in this city and often visited Mrs. McDermott. The young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Murdock and was 23 years of age last November.

Sheriff Galligan Also Indicted

DANVILLE, Ill., March 7.—(By the United Press)—Sheriff George T. Galligan, of Williamson county, who twice during the past few months was instrumental in calling state troops to the county has been indicted by a grand jury here for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. Galligan has not been arrested, but will be asked to report here for arraignment Monday. John Layman, Galligan, former chief deputy, was also indicted on the same charge.

Layman is missing and officials believe he is hiding in New Orleans.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—do this you watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—billows look in your face—just eat with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 50c.

Zihlman Issues Statement
BALTIMORE, March 7.—(By The A. P.)—The Baltimore Sun today printed the following from its Washington correspondent.
Representative Frederick Zihlman of Maryland, is one of the two members of the house of representatives whose names were brought before the grand jury proceedings at Chicago and against whom the department of justice is seeking to make a case of improperly receiving money.

He Admits It
This became known beyond all question today, when the Maryland representative himself candidly admitted that he had been apprised of the fact that he had been implicated. He issued a brief statement asking the public to suspend judgment regarding the matter until the nature of the charges are made known and the charges have been answered.

Mr. Zihlman's statement is as follows:
"The matter has been brought to me from various quarters, but I am at a loss to know what it is I am presumed to be implicated in. And until I know and we all know the nature of the charges I ask the public to suspend its judgment regarding the matter as it may involve my name, my character and my integrity.
"In the absence of definite charges, which I hear have been made against me, it is impossible for me to issue a specific denial or to make a definite statement. I can only say that I court the fullest investigation. I am conscious of having committed no wrong."

Demand Names Be Revealed

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Department of Justice, officials and before them today a demand from the house that they disclose the names of the two representatives charged in a Chicago grand jury report with having accepted bribes.

Curtis

"I don't know," Senator Walsh went on. "Mightn't 'X' have been somebody else? There's a good portion of this message which doesn't mean anything at all, if it is Lambert."

"I can't help that," Senator Walsh said, "about a conference."

"That, I think, refers to Mr. Daugherty," Bennett said. "I don't think I saw him that day, but finally saw him the same day or the next."

"If we should assume that the code message of yours referred to Mr. Daugherty," Senator Walsh said, "that would connect up."

"Strange as it may seem, that message contains substantially what Mr. Daugherty told me as well as Mr. Lambert."

Senator Walsh then read the "principal" telegram of January 20.

"I'd like to explain," Bennett began. "The second part of the message refers to my own opinion which I got from attending the White House newspaper conference."

"The first part, the 'principal' refers to Senator Curtis."

McLean, Bennett continued, had given him a message to deliver to Senator Curtis.

"I was to tell Curtis that McLean was all right," he continued. "I was to say McLean understood the attack was more or less of a political matter."

"And the rest of the message about rocking the boat and resignation was what you got as an impression from attending the White House conference with all other correspondents?"

"Yes," the message goes right on," Senator Walsh put in. "To say he expects reaction from unwarranted political attacks."

"That's Senator Curtis," Bennett said.

Attorney W. L. Hostetter has been appointed receiver to take charge of the general mercantile business of Thomas and Harry Delandis, doing business under the firm name of Delandis Brothers, at 3520 Rhodes ave., New Boston. The entry appointing the receiver was approved by Judge Thomas at Friday where he is at present holding court and followed on the heels of an action instituted in Common Pleas court by The Gilbert Grocery company, suing through Attorney B. F. Kimble, seeking to recover the sum of $33.95 claimed to be due on an account from the mercantile firm. Plaintiff in its petition alleges that the defendants are insolvent and are squandering the merchandise in the store at the Rhodes avenue address, and are offering the goods for sale at prices far below cost for the purpose of converting the property into money and to defraud their creditors, it is charged.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discovered disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomachics, tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisulphated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisulphated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort, try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisulphated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Advertisement.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Harry Stealy was a charming hostess on Thursday afternoon when she entertained with a beautifully appointed bridge-luncheon at her lovely home on Eighteenth street. The table was attractive in its decorations of spring flowers and lighted candles and the choice menu was faultlessly served. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments, and clever carriages of pink rosebuds marked each place. Ice cream roses were served after the luncheon, and later the guests found their places at three tables arranged for bridge and the remainder of the afternoon was spent at this popular diversion. In scoring Mrs. Earl Cunningham and Mrs. E. E. Scott were given handsome favors for high and low score. Those included in this delightful affair were Mrs. Lawrence Shump, Mrs. Arthur Landman, Mrs. Earl Cunningham, Mrs. W. H. Vick, Mrs. C. K. Swain, Mrs. Earl Cunningham, Mrs. Lynn Wittenberg, Mrs. E. W. Gills, Mrs. R. E. Scott, Mrs. Edward Westphal, Mrs. Carl Rose, Mrs. H. M. Rogers and the hostess.

U. S. Protests Insulting of American Women By Reichstag Member

BERLIN, March 7.—(By the United Press)—Ambassador Houghton of the United States, today visited Foreign Minister Stresemann and lodged a strong protest against the action of Deputy Korthouse in insulting three American women in a compartment on a Cologne, Berlin express train. The ambassador demanded that suitable action be taken. Stresemann promised an investigation will be made immediately.

The incident occurred on a Cologne-Berlin express last Sunday when Herr Korthouse, member of the Reichstag, cursed the American women, among whom was included Mrs. William Coffin, wife of U. S. Consul General, at demanded that their baggage be moved from a rack overhead. The women suggested he summon the conductor to remove them, whereupon the Reichstag member endeavored to do so, whereupon he broke a window.

DOLLINGS OFFICIALS CONVICTED OF USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—(By The A. P.)—After two hours deliberation a federal grand jury last night returned a verdict of guilty in the cases of William G. Benham and Dwight L. Harrison, former president and vice president of the R. L. Dollings Company of Ohio, respectively, charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the promotion of stock sales of the company.

The indictments on which Harrison and Benham were convicted contained eleven counts, each of which carried a maximum sentence in the federal penitentiary of five years.

Immediately after the verdict was rendered defense attorneys filed a motion for a new trial, and Judge John R. Sater, who presided during the trial, announced he would hear it next Monday afternoon.

Face Another Charge
Both Benham and Harrison face another indictment charging conspiracy to defraud, which carries a sentence of two years in prison for each if tried and convicted under it.

In addition to the federal indictments Benham and Harrison are also facing charges in Franklin, Deale and Delaware counties in connection with their activities of the Dollings Company and its 33 subsidiary concerns.

Harrison was convicted in Franklin county common pleas court December 19 on an indictment charging that he made false representations in regard to the Phoenix Portland Cement Company, and was sentenced to three years in the Ohio Penitentiary and fined $5,000.

The present case has been before the court for eight weeks during which time the jury has been lodged in a local hotel here.

How It Started
Receivership proceedings filed last July by a Massachusetts shoe concern brought on the first difficulties of the Dollings Company and on July 20, the company went into voluntary bankruptcy. Receiverships for nearly all of the 33 subsidiary companies also have been filed. Dollings companies in Indiana and Pennsylvania also have gone into receivership.

It is estimated that between 80,000 and 80,000 stockholders were involved in the Dollings crash and that these stockholders had holdings valued at between $30,000,000 and $70,000,000. No exact estimates of the holdings or number of stockholders has ever been made public, but the estimates are made by attorneys identified with the case since the petition in bankruptcy was filed.

Supt. E. O. McGowan Explains Why Green Township School Is Closed

Closing of the Green township schools last Monday by action of the township board because of lack of finances may result in the operation of the schools by the county board, it was learned yesterday at the office of County Superintendent of Schools E. O. McGowan.

The closing of the schools resulted from a depleted condition of the township treasury, it is said, and, unless help is given from the county, the schools will remain closed for the remainder of this term.

County Superintendent McGowan issued the following statement:

The voters of Green Township had the opportunity at the last November election to carry the 3 mill levy to run their schools, but voted it down. The Green Township Board of Education in session last Saturday, March 1, went carefully over their finances, having just received the February distribution of taxes, and found that their funds were exhausted. A new law passed about a year ago that does not permit a board of education to borrow money made it impossible for the Green Township Board of Education to continue the schools. The Board, therefore, voted to close the schools at once and they were shut down Monday for the rest of the year so far as the Green Township Board is concerned.

A careful statement of their finances was filed with County Superintendent by Anthony Gerlach, clerk of the Green Township Board. The Superintendent immediately asked for a special meeting of the County Board of Education to consider the situation. The President of the County Board, John S. Violet, has called a meeting for Friday, March 7, at 1 p. m.

Quick Relief From Colds

A cold is always disagreeable and often dangerous. Don't cough and sneeze and suffer a throbbing head or chest. Take the safe, sure remedy that is compounded especially to relieve colds over night. Munyon's Cold Remedy means quick relief from colds in the head, throat and chest, fever and nasal discharges, hacking coughs, tight chests, catarrh, loss of voice and night sweats. Delay may be dangerous—let Munyon's Cold Remedy make you well.

Scranton, Pa.

a meeting for Friday, March 7, at 1 p. m.

The Superintendent took the matter of financing the schools up with the County Auditor who has agreed to finance the schools for one month and for the remainder of the term in case no other school district needs the same help.

Section 7010-1 of the General Code requires the County Board of Education to conduct the schools of a district when the board of education can not or does not do so. The money to pay for the same is to be taken from the General County Fund but is a charge against the local district and is taken out of their next semi-annual distribution of taxes and placed back in the Green County Fund. It will, therefore, be seen that the local district still must pay the bill although the County Board must conduct the schools.

Haverhill and Clay Township School Districts voted the 3 mill levy in November while Green voted it down. All districts in Scioto County that received state aid voted the 3 mill levy 3 years ago and their schools have therefore gone on. It will readily be seen that in the cause of the closing of the schools rests not upon the Green Township Board of Education but squarely upon those who voted against the 3 mill levy. It is the opinion of many that the question was not clearly understood by the mass of voters or the measure would have been carried. It is believed that when the people really understand that eventually they cannot and will not have any school to speak of that they will vote favorably on the matter when it is next presented by the board of education.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN BOWLING SINGLES

CHICAGO, March 7.—The annual meeting of the American Bowling Congress today will select the convention city for next year.

Invitations for the 1925 tournament have been submitted by Buffalo, Detroit, Louisville, Toledo, Peoria and Cleveland.

As it has been the custom in past years to move up the officers, Charles C. Ryan, of Kenosha, Wis., first vice president, is in line for the presidency.

Chicago and Detroit share the spotlight in the singles and doubles competition today. Representatives from New York, St. Louis, Cleveland, Erie, Pa., Toledo, Monroe, Mich., Aurora, Ill., and Milwaukee are also scheduled to participate.

In the five men event teams from St. Louis, Buffalo, New York, Cincinnati, Toledo, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Dayton and Sandusky, and Peru, Ill., will play.

A new world's record for the singles was established yesterday by F. Kair of Chicago, who tallied 732 with games of 216, 275 and 241. Kair took the lead in the all events with 1,881. He is a member of the Dandy Firsts, leading team in the five men division, with 2,556.

The McDermott ball team organized for the season at a meeting of the players held in the village Thursday night when M. Elliott was chosen to pilot the aggregation. John Simon was named business manager and Harold McElhenny was elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans for the season's campaign were discussed and after Manager Elliott was advised that all the members of last year's outfit had indicated their desire to again perform under the village colors, he declared he would be able to put a nine on the field capable of holding their own with any opposition in this part of the state.

The team will start actual activities on the diamond this first Sunday in May which is the date selected to pry off the lid by staging a contest on the home lot.

Staten plays last game tomorrow.

DELAWARE, OHIO, March 7.—Turner wears a Wesleyan uniform for the last time Saturday night, however, and local fans rate him at the close of his career as one of the most admirable Wesleyan athletes of all time.

Coch Van Alstyne's team, with more games won than any other conference five, must win from Ohio to tie with Denison for third place in the championship struggle. Mr. Union, Denison and St. Xavier are deemed as sure winners in the early games remaining on their schedule.

'T'WILL BE A REAL BATTLE

CHILICOTHE, March 7.—The basketballers of Chillicothe High school have another hard game facing them before they journey to Columbus to compete for state honors.

That game is the one with Portsmouth, high on Saturday, March 8, at 5 o'clock, at Central gymnasium.

In view of the results of the games at the tournament at Athens, this promises to be a hard fought contest, even though Chillicothe has the edge upon the visitors. Portsmouth showed that it had a mighty good team in the contest with Greenfield. It was only through good luck on the part of McClain high that the victory was finally theirs. And then, considering the result of this game and the one of the Chillicothe-Greenfield game, in which Chillicothe was threatened because the players took things easy in the last half, it looks as though the Portsmouth team is not one to be sneezed at.

On New Year's day Portsmouth took Chillicothe over the rocks with a defeat of 27 to 14.

Platte football field.

The usual declarations of confidence in the outcome were voiced by the two men after their final light work-outs yesterday.

FIRPO IN RING TONIGHT

BUENOS AIRES, March 7.—Erminio Spalla, Italian heavyweight champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, South American lightweight, rested today in preparation for the fifteen round bout tonight at the River

McDermott Team Organizes

The McDermott ball team organized for the season at a meeting of the players held in the village Thursday night when M. Elliott was chosen to pilot the aggregation. John Simon was named business manager and Harold McElhenny was elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans for the season's campaign were discussed and after Manager Elliott was advised that all the members of last year's outfit had indicated their desire to again perform under the village colors, he declared he would be able to put a nine on the field capable of holding their own with any opposition in this part of the state.

The team will start actual activities on the diamond this first Sunday in May which is the date selected to pry off the lid by staging a contest on the home lot.

Staten plays last game tomorrow.

EDDIE'S FRIENDS

The Afternoon Game—Mah Jong

STOCK PRICES MOVE TO HIGHER GROUND

Bears Meet Strong Resistance At Every Turn and Market Steadier

NEW YORK, March 7.—Speculative activity in high priced stocks, particularly the electric issues, was the outstanding development in today's stock market. The electric issues showed a slight advance on the day. The close was generally steady. Sales approximated 200,000 shares.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's stock market with buying orders distributed throughout the list. Dupont advanced a point and small fraction. Gains were recorded by the Pan American, Standard Oil of California, Union Pacific and Davidson Chemical. Canadian Pacific and Southern Railway each dropped a point.

Strength of the merchandising issues was the feature of the early trading. Woolworth advanced 1/8. Gimbel Brothers moved up 1/8, and Chert Peabody 1/8. Schlitz advanced two points and United Drug one. Standard Industrials were inclined to slump on profit taking. Pacific Coast broke 1/4. The Erie, Erie Coal, dropped two to 68. A new 1924 low. Utah Copper, Famous Players, and Gulf States Steel were heavy. Establishment of record low prices for all time by French and Belgian francs in the foreign exchange market.

Trading was relatively quiet during the first hour with the passage of trade developing slightly reactionary tendencies. Except in a few isolated cases, however, bear traders apparently abandoned their efforts to depress the general list because of the strong resistance offered. A revived demand for the sugar and merchandising issues set a moderate rally in motion just before noon. Market sugar, a change of three points. Associated Dry Goods moved up a few points and the Jewel Tea issues. Louise-Wiles, Biscuit, Stewart-Warner Speedometer and Philadelphia Coal and Iron selling a point or more above yesterday's final figures. There were a few weak spots. Pacific Coast lost preferred breaking 1/2 point. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

CLOSING PRICES OF OHIO STOCK
COLUMBUS, March 7.—Cities Service common, 17 1/2; 18 1/2; 19 1/2, preferred 24 1/2; 25 1/2. Pure Oil 21 1/2.

CORN DOWN; OTHER GRAINS ALSO DECLINE

CHICAGO, March 7.—Speculative selling in the corn market had a depressing effect on prices of grain during the early trading this morning. There was no material pressure from other sources, but aggressive selling was absent. After opening at 1 1/2¢ off to an equal advance, May 8 1/2¢ to 8 1/2¢, the corn market suffered a general setback with May leading the decline and showing a drop of nearly one cent.

The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2¢ lower: May 8 1/2¢ to 8 1/2¢.

When received with corn, expected standing of the tariff, expected proclamation was apparently regarded as having been already discounted as a bullish factor. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2¢ higher, May 4 1/2¢ and then underwent something of a sag.

Provisions were firmer in line with hog.

OPPOSED TO DESPOTISM

THE suggestion by a group of American capitalists that the United States kill the Russian soviet with kindness and recognition was a notable bit of irony, coming as it did from a nation born as was this country in revolt from despotism, and from a nation which has hitherto watched with so much sympathy and kindly interest the struggles of Europe toward our own ideals of individual liberty and democracy.

Many discerning Americans have found it difficult to reconcile our own faith in representative government with our manifest opposition to the Russian revolution. These same persons doubtless believed it the duty of democratic America to give both moral and material support to the Russian people in their struggle for freedom, regardless of how that struggle might be perverted or deviated from the true road to emancipation. At first blush it would seem incumbent upon a republican people to ally itself with any movement for the overthrow of autocracy.

It is no international secret that the people of the United States now have little or no sympathy for the Russian soviet, but it cannot be lost sight of by those who would censor us for our attitude that after the overthrow of the Russian dynasty and before the establishment of the present dictatorship of the minority proletariat the Russian people did enjoy the full sympathy of Americans. In the eyes of the average American the soviet is as much an autocracy and a dictatorship as was the rule by the czar. It has been a keen disappointment that the Russians did not grasp their big opportunity for a government for the people, by the people and of the people.

The change in our attitude toward the Russians is not new. It has a precedent in the French revolutions. It was a victory for the Americans when the French people drove their king and his court from power and proceeded in the establishment of a republican form of government such as that of the United States, but a great source of pain and remorse for the Americans when the French, just as the Russians did later, turned aside from their noble purpose to spill class venom and to exalt vicious tyrants to power more despotic than that taken from their deposed king.

The people of the United States still cherish the vision of a world-wide democracy and cannot be justly accused of opposing for materialistic reasons the inspired efforts of others toward liberty and self-government.

CARELESSNESS INCREASING

IN 1923 the rate of automobile fatalities was 13 per cent greater than that of 1922. The rate of such deaths in January, 1924, is shown by statistics published by one of the larger life insurance companies to have exceeded that for January, 1923, by more than 17 per cent. This points to increase in carelessness in operation of motor vehicles, for the rise in fatality percentage is not to be explained away as being chargeable to increase in the number of automobiles in use.

Care is a relative term. What is proper care in a little used street would not be proper care in a crowded thoroughfare. What was proper care on highways when fewer automobiles were in use is not proper care today. The motorist who fails to increase his care to correspond with increasing need for it is to be listed as increasing in carelessness. There is still plenty of room on the highways for the operation of motor vehicles without fatality if handled with proper care. The increasing percentage of such deaths warns all motorists, and pedestrians as well, of the need for greater care.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 7.—While strolling along New York's Park Avenue at dusk, a quiet as a rug store. Life awnings like those in Paris. Luxurious flats that are occupied only a few weeks a year. Tubed trees. And only motor entrance ways.

Women with yellowish-lavender facial make up. Rouge is becoming passé. Gaudy Spanish shawls. Silk hats. Wonder why someone doesn't dramatize Ben Franklin? A side street where soul healers comfort the poor rich. The Racquet Club. Stately and debonaire.

Another day tumbles toward the west. Giant trees and prowling winds. Antique shops bustling with incongruous objects. The depressing medicinal odor of a hospital. An abandoned church. The belfry filled with ghoully winged bats. Nothing so terrifying to me as a bat.

A few old homes left of the Victorian splendor. Struggling to keep up with the new pace. The East River gleaming like a silver ribbon. An old graveyard hidden in tangled weeds. Sutton Square—the new Pomander Walk surrounded by squalor.

Stray dogs from river barges. A white haired levee preacher talking to an audience of three. The endless line of damp carts. Scavengers with ragged and spiked sticks. Always mumbling. Tired mothers, prattling of their children.

A Polish section. Hair the shade of taffy. Men who walk ponderously. Tea cent peep-shows. Cooking without culinary skills. People of the soil who seem ill at ease in a crowded city. A dead horse. Friendly innis where the accordions wail the dance tunes.

Back to the bright lights across town. Broadway's hull for the theatre curtains drop. Gil Boag, King of Night Life. He recently married Gloria Gray. Sordid shops with catch window displays. Orange drink stands are re-opening. Summer is around the corner.

A thief buried a brick through a Broadway man's furnishing store. He fled with an overcoat. The proprietor instead of sending for the police turned the other cheek. In his window hangs a sign reading: "To the Man Who Broke This Window: We regret we were closed when you smashed this window. Had you needed an overcoat we would have been sorry. We, too, have known poverty."

One of the busiest spots in town around eight o'clock in the morning is the Bootleggers' Curb on West Forty-fifth street. The bootleggers gather there to form their prices for the day. They talk openly of their supplies of Scotch, rum and gin. When they agree on prices they disperse to their offices in the Times Square district and begin telephoning their customers for orders.

What's harder'n buyin' a dime's worth o' picture postals cards an' then tryin' to find 'em? I send 'em to it. I mean you knowed they looked all right wouldn't it have 'em a lot o' worryin'!

In one bootleg office, it is said seven men are on the phone constantly soliciting business.

Liquor prices are affected mostly by newspaper stories. If there is much publicity given to deaths from poisonous booze, the prices go down. If there is news forecast of revenue-raising, prices soar.

At one of the prelate boxing matches at Madison Square Garden a big bulk of a fellow was being battered unmercifully by his small opponent. Before the close of the first round he quit the ring and fled through the ropes.

"What's the matter," shouted the referee. "Aren't you going to fight anymore?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I'm going to fight some more, but not this evening."

The new Madison Square Garden on Seventh Avenue in the Forties is on its way. The site is an old car barn and the ancient structure is now being torn down.
